THE CNN FOOTBALL CLUB ON HUBLOT TIME!

Hublot becomes "Official Timekeeper" of the new weekly TV show created by CNN International and distributed worldwide.

It is distributed all over the world. It is dedicated to the most popular sport in the world. It will be fully interactive before, during and after the show on social networks, the new international event for all football lovers. CNN Football Club, a new show hosted by the famous Pedro Pinto, will air every Thursday evening live at 18:00 (GVA Time) on CNN International.

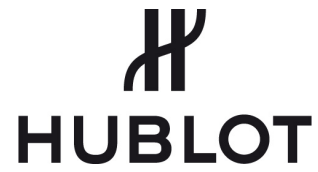

Hublot, Official Timekeeper of the FIFA World Cup 2014™, has made a name for itself through its involvement in football through various partnerships like Manchester United and Bayern Munich. The Swiss luxury watch brand could only rejoice in the establishment of such an exciting new broadcast and is thrilled to become its Official Timekeeper.

Tonight, don't miss the first show on CNN International at 18:00 (Geneva time). Kickoff with Pedro Pinto and Michael Owen begins this evening in a show that will focus on the UEFA Champions League- back in action after a long holiday break. Hublot will be present before, during and after the show with a spot created for it, as well as its associated social networks:
